AZAD MADNI RECEIVES THE WILLIAM B. JOHNSON INTERNATIONAL INTER-PROFESSIONAL FOUNDERS AWARD

From Engineers' Council

Los Angeles, CA, February 23, 2019 — Azad Madni receives the William B. Johnson Award at Engineers' Council. This award was established to commemorate the memory of William B. Johnson who was one of the founders of the Engineers' Council. He had an untiring commitment to build the Council into a unified and effective body representing all facets of the engineering and scientific community. His standards and professional aspiration were to strive for perfection and elegance in engineering. This prestigious award is given to an outstanding individual who reflects these qualities and is internationally recognized as a role model for excellence and elegance in engineering, and whose influence is international.
